Le débat des prétendants
de Taninna

Cette pièce a été recueillie par M. BENHAMICHE, Instituteur à Darna, de la bouche d'une nonagénaire, Fadhma At WewdiE, originaire d'Ighil-Bwammas, mariée à Darna.

C'est un petit drame, ayant pour acteurs principaux des Oiseaux, — la mystérieuse Taninna, le Faucon et le Vautour, avec l'Aigle comme meneur de jeu, — qui prétend illustrer le prestige de la force et de la beauté battant en brèche le bon sens et la sagesse.

Tout cela est prétexte à maximes, proverbes, bouts rimés exprimant la sagesse populaire tirée du vieux fond humain, dans une forme qui rappelle étrangement certains passages de la Bible, (Livre de la Sagesse, par ex. ch. 30) et, avec plus de laconisme, revient aux dires de « Kalila et Dimna ».

Mkul-yiwen yenna-d ayen yessen.

Akken qqaren : esswab amm-ewl-ul:

Urrezrid and-ara d-ye ffeff!

Chacun dit ce qu'il sait.

On dit : Le bon sens est comme le lièvre :

il peut sortir de n'importe où.

... souvent on le rencontre où on ne l'attendrait pas.

Certaines de ces expressions de la sagesse populaire, formées de courtes sentences, sans lien entre elles, semblent, en effet, décousues. Cela ne gêne en rien l'auditeur Kabyle : il retient l'un ou l'autre sens, celui qui frappe, et le reste demeure accompagnement musical.

Il est à remarquer que la traduction des noms d'animaux ne correspond que de loin à l'identification tentée dans un article du FICHER, 641, Zoologie populaire : le travail serait à faire pour chaque région et auprès d'informateurs spécialement choisis : la faune n'intéresse généralement que les chasseurs et les dompteurs ; la flore, les sorcières et les sages-femmes ; quant aux marchands de bons mots, ils s'accoutument généralement sans préjugés de l'une et de l'autre.
