the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased in the UK, and the number of people with a mental health problem who are in contact with mental health services has increased (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993, 1998, 2003).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with a mental health problem, and a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with a mental health problem who are in contact with mental health services (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993, 1998, 2003). This has led to a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with a mental health problem who are in contact with mental health services (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993, 1998, 2003).

The aim of this paper is to review the literature on the lives of people with a mental health problem who are in contact with mental health services (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993, 1998, 2003). The paper will focus on the lives of people with a mental health problem who are in contact with mental health services (Mental Health Act 1983, 1993, 1998, 2003).
