Tout d'abord, une remarque préliminaire. Pour faire cette communication, je n'ai pas utilisé d'autres sources que celles de ma mémoire ; ni écrit, ni enregistrement, ni témoignages d'aucune sorte. Il peut donc y avoir des omissions, des imprécisions, des erreurs aussi, involontaires bien sûr ! Je livre, ici, mon propos en toute liberté et objectivité, au sujet de la radio d'Alger, telle que je l'ai connue entre les années 1946 et 1958, au temps où l'organisme s'appelait les ELAK (Emissions en Langues Arabe et Kabyle).

Eh bien, maintenant, je sors un tout petit historique.

Avant la guerre, la radio qui existait c'était "Radio PTT Alger" qui était une toute petite station expérimentale qui ne s'exprimait qu'en français et n'avait pas une grande portée, puisque je me souviens, alors, on entendait bien mieux Radio Toulouse, Radio Andorre et même Radio Milan, en Italie, avec les fameux chants d'oiseaux qui indiquaient la station.

Après l'armistice, on a voulu renforcer la puissance de ce petit poste de PTT Alger, uniquement avec l'idée de couvrir le territoire de l'Algérie. Alors, à ce moment là, aux français on a ajouté certaines émissions en langue arabe : des informations, en particulier et il y avait également des petits bulletins en Kabyle. C'est-à-dire après 1940.

Après le débarquement allié en Afrique du Nord, on a décidé de faire une très grande station pour couvrir non seulement l'Afrique du Nord, mais aussi la France et tous les pays. C'est alors qu'on a créé la grande station de Radio France. Cette station était créée par des gens venus, surtout, de France. Mais parmi eux se trouvait un kabyle, que tous les kabyles connaissent : c'est Jean Mouhoub Amrouche qui faisait partie de cette équipe là.

Il y avait, donc, un directeur général qui dirigeait tout ce qui concernait la radiodiffusion en Algérie.

Il y avait deux sections, si l'on peut dire : les émissions en langue française, d'une part et les émissions en langue Arabe et Kabyle, d'autre part.

Le directeur général avait la main sur tous les services : les services financiers et techniques étant en commun et les ELAK, étant sous la houlette du Gouvernement Général.

D'ailleurs les émissions françaises se faisait du 10, rue Hoche, sur le Plateau Saulière, à Alger ; tandis que les émissions en langues Arabe et Kabyle se déroulaient rue Berthezène, au pied du gouvernement général.

En ce qui concerne l'évolution des ELAK. Et bien, cette section des émissions en langues Arabe et Kabyle, il a fallu la créer de toutes pièces, ex-nihilo comme on dit. Il fallait, donc, tout improviser : d'abord recruter du personnel, édifier des programmes, susciter une production pour essayer de constituer une station qui marche normalement. Alors, on a calqué la structure des émissions en langues Arabe et Kabyle sur le modèle des émissions en langue française. Pour le recrutement du personnel, on s'est adressé aux personnes les plus aptes, et c'est ainsi qu'on s'est adressé, par exemple pour le recrutement aux anciens élèves de la Médersa qui est devenue, par la suite, le lycée d'enseignement franco-musulman. Je me souviens de M. Bendali (le professeur) qui était en ce moment là à la Médersa, qui venait nous rendre visite. Pour les cadres, ils étaient recrutés dans la fonction publique pour la plupart et pour le reste, on recrutait tous ceux qui étaient susceptibles d'apporter une collaboration, selon les objectifs que l'on poursuivait.

Les attributions n'étaient pas très cloisonnées. Elles étaient assez floues. Mais à ce moment là, il y avait la chaîne Arabe, d'une part, quant à la chaîne Kabyle, il n'y avait pas de chaîne Kabyle spécifique. Les émissions en langue Kabyle, étaient intégrées dans le programme Arabe. Comme matière, il y avait des petits bulletins d'information et des chroniques. Il y a eu par exemple la chronique de celle qu'on appelait Lalla Tasaedit qui était Madame Laffage. Elle avait un terrible accent français, mais elle parlait fort bien le Kabyle, avec beaucoup de facilité.

Quant aux locaux des émissions en langues Arabe et Kabyle, il y avait un grand studio pour les formations musicales et théâtrales et un petit studio pour les informations.

Les bureaux étaient très étriqués ; il y en avait assez peu. C'était en 1954, que l'on nous avait attribué des bureaux, à l'étage au-dessus, au gouvernement général même.

En ce qui concerne la structure et l'organisation des ELAK, la Direction : c'était le Gouvernement général, en définitive, qui décidait de celui qui serait le directeur de cette station. Mais le directeur en question dépendait, sur le plan financier et sur le plan technique, en particulier, du Directeur de la radiodiffusion française en Algérie. Le premier d'entre eux, s'appelait Karl Wilson. C'est un nom spécifiquement anglais ; c'était un interprète militaire qui avait fait ses hautes études, à Rabat. Il est resté entre 1944 et 1950, environ. Ce n'était pas un personnage de grande culture. Il avait un rôle de surveillance et n'inspirait pas beaucoup l'orientation des émissions, parce que, vraiment, je ne pense pas qu'il ait eu les compétences dans ce domaine. Il y avait un attaché de direction et un secrétaire général qui étaient français. Max Petitcomme attaché de direction et Jacques Legrand, comme secrétaire général, qui avait été en Indochine et qu'on avait recasé là, sans qu'il y ait une justification de leur présence. Il y avait également, en rupture de professorat, le professeur agrégé Louis Chaudreau qui était là et qui rendait certains services, surtout pour les reportages à l'extérieur et puis, pour fournir certaines émissions.

Il y avait des cadres supérieurs pour les ELAK. C'était un tronc commun, c'est-à-dire que ces cadres supérieurs dirigeaient, chacun dans son secteur, les trois éléments suivants :

Il y a eu d'abord, comme faisant fonction de sous-directeur, en fait s'occupant plus particulièrement du domaine artistique, Safir El-Boudali. Il venait de l'Education nationale. C'était un homme charmant, très distingué, très avenant. Ce n'était pas un intrigant, loin de là. Il accueillait les gens avec beaucoup de compréhension et de gentillesse et je me souviens que j'avais d'excellentes relations avec lui. Il était donc, sous-directeur et s'occupait surtout du domaine artistique. Tout ce qui concernait la culture, la distraction et la musique, c'était lui qui s'en occupait.

Vers la fin de mon séjour là-bas (vers la fin 1957), comme il était las de certaines manigances, je pense, il a trouvé un poste qui l'intéressait plus, alors il est allé comme adjoint de M. Agues à la Direction des centres sociaux. Ensuite, c'était la période où il y avait la promotion musulmane : on voulait nommer des personnalités à des postes importants et c'est ainsi qu'El-Boudali Safir a été nommé ministre plénipotentiaire aux affaires étrangères à Paris. Voilà, donc, pour le secteur artistique.

En ce qui concerne l'information. Elle avait été attribuée à Saïd Rezzoug qui était originaire de Kabylie et a fait ses études, comme Karl Wilson, à Rabat. Donc, il avait été chargé de l'information, en Arabe et en Kabyle.

Le troisième secteur, c'était celui de la traduction. Il en fallait un personnel compétent pour alimenter les émissions. Que ce soient les dépêches d'agences ou les informations qui étaient données en français pour être traduites et diffusées en Arabe et en Kabyle. A la tête de ce secteur de la traduction il y avait Tahar Bouchouchi qui, par la suite, est devenu Lhadj Tahar Bouchouchi, parce qu'il avait été envoyé à la Mecque et avait ramené un reportage sur le pèlerinage à la Mecque.

El-Boudali Safir avait eu comme adjoint, Fethallah Benhassine qui avait pris tout ce qui était comme émissions parlées, dans le domaine artistique. Ils s'occupaient de la chaîne Arabe.

La plupart du temps ils avaient des collaborateurs, au cachet, comme Tahar Foudhala, Rédha Falaki (fils de Maître Hadj Hamou qui avait publié "Le mineur de zaccar", premier roman d'un algérien, en français), il y avait des producteurs qui collaborait directement, en langue arabe et aussi des français qui donnaient leurs textes en langue française et étaient traduits par le service de traduction, comme Emmanuel Robles. Il y avait Veller et aussi Chaudreau dont j'avais parlé tout à l'heure. On abordait les genres les plus divers. On essayait de calquer les programmes des émissions en langues Arabe et Kabyle, sur le modèle français. C'est ainsi, par exemple, on avait même, à un moment donné, essayé de faire une émission du genre chansonnier. Ça n'a pas duré longtemps, parce que c'était quelque chose d'assez délicat et on a bien vite supprimé ce genre d'émission, parce qu'il y avait des critiques qui étaient faites, ça manquait un peu de respect, et on a préféré éviter ce genre de choses.

En ce qui concerne la musique, il y avait la musique enregistrée, bien sûr, des disques et des bandes, les bandes qui sont venues plus tard. Il y avait la musique vivante. Il y avait des orchestres de divers genres: bédouin, populaire, classique, moderne. Je me souviens, il y avait l'orchestre de Abdelkrim Dali, Hadj Mhamed El-Anka, Lili El-Abbassi, Ali Fitoussi, Skandrani. Il y avait des musiciens, je me souviens d'un flutiste virtuose qui avait toute une collection de flutes, c'était Sidah, sans oublier Kechkoul. Pour toutes ces collaborations là et dans la maison, il y avait des gens qui étaient bilingue, c'est-à-dire qui parlait Arabe et Kabyle et qui, donc bien souvent, participaient aux émissions de l'un ou l'autre secteur.

En ce qui concerne l'information, maintenant, il y avait des cadres moyens et la plupart étaient, donc, des contractuels. D'abord, je me souviens de la rédaction proprement dite: c'étaient des journalistes qui faisaient des éditoriaux, ajoutant à celà le journal parlé qui avait des chroniques et des documentaires, enfin bref, je citerais parmi eux Abderrahmane Aktouf qui était un vieux kabyle, habillé de façon traditionnelle, qui ne savait pas rédiger en français, du tout. C'était un kabyle de la région d'At Yaâla. Lui était donc chargé des éditoriaux.

Je me souviens de Joseph Lagarde qui était un syrien chrétien, qui avait dû partir rapidement de son pays et qu'on avait ramené en Algérie. On n'avait jamais su son vrai nom, Joseph Lagarde était un pseudonyme. Il était très cultivé, tant en français qu'en arabe et il faisait fonction de rédacteur en chef adjoint. Je me souviens aussi d'un autre qui s'appelle Mâalem, il était secrétaire de rédaction.

En ce qui concerne les reportages. J'étais l'un des reporters qui s'est donc occupé de ce problème. Il y en avait d'autres: par exemple Zitouni (qui était le fils du muphti de Blida). Il y avait Benhalla, Bekkari Lahcene, EL-Assimi (c'était le fils du muphti El-Assimi) qui était chargé, particulièrement, du sport.

Pour alimenter le journal parlé et les bulletins d'information, nous avions l'Agence France Presse qui débitait les informations du monde. Et puis, il y avait les reportages maison et des personnalités qui collaboraient, qui faisaient des exposés, à l'exemple de M. Bendali, Abderrahmane Djilali. Nous avons également recours à la presse locale, pour les petites informations. Bref, on faisait ce qui était possible avec les moyens du bord et petit à petit, ça c'est étoffé, la machine s'est rôdée et ça a suscité un fort mouvement de recherche, de compilation, de récupération de toutes sortes de documents ; ce qui fait que la radio a été un centre d'activité intellectuelle assez intense.

Pour ce qui concerne la traduction, il y avait à traduire tous les textes en français : que ce soit ceux de la production artistique qui était donnée en français ou bien du service d'information. Ces textes étaient lus soit par des acteurs-interprètes, soit par des speakers. Dans ce service de la traduction, il y avait Baba Ameer, c'était le fils du muphti d'Alger, également; il y avait Mahmoud Djilali, les frères Slimane et Mahdjoub Khelifa, enfin bref, il y avait du personnel qui correspondait chaque fois et qui était rôdé ; qui était devenus de véritables professionnels dans ce domaine. Nous avions des speakers : M. Lakhel et M. Kettou également. Je note aussi d'autres contractuels: il y avait des régisseurs, comme Lwennas et Merabet, des techniciens.

Au début, les techniciens étaient tous des français, ensuite on a commencé à avoir des algériens, comme Aït-Mokhtar qui a été l'un des premiers. Pour le service de sténo-dactylo et des secrétaires, ils étaient presque tous européens, mais vers la fin il y a eu Mademoiselle Rezig et il y a eu Saïd Hocine qui est devenu, par la suite, journaliste lui-même. Il y avait des plantons également.

Il y avait tous les services attenants qui s'occupaient du matériel. Enfin, il y avait tout ce qui constituait un service comme celui qui devait fonctionner dans une station de radio.

En ce qui concerne, plus particulièrement, la chaîne Kabyle maintenant. Au moment de l'armistice, il y avait quelques petits bulletins en Kabyle et la chronique de Lalla Tasaâdit, dont j'avais parlé tout à l'heure et qui était insérée dans le programme arabe. Parce qu'il n'y avait pas de chaîne Kabyle spécifique. C'était, donc, uniquement quelques petites interventions dans la chaîne Arabe.

J'ai eu l'occasion de rencontrer Abderrahmane Isker et il me disait : C'est moi qui ai demandé au commandant Wilson de constituer une véritable chaîne Kabyle autonome. Et, effectivement, la chaîne Kabyle, petit à petit, commençait à prendre forme. Elle s'étoffait petit à petit. Il y avait des traducteurs-speakers, comme Abderrahmane Isker lui-même; il y avait Mouhamed Lamrani, Hocine Ouarab, Bessaï Larbi, des chroniqueurs aussi : je me souviens de Cheikh Hamouda qui s'occupait des chroniques religieuses et juridiques en particulier ; Madame Rachida qui était assistante sociale et à ce titre faisait des émissions pour les femmes, en particulier. Deux instituteurs : M. Naït Abedellah et M. Mohamed Hares participaient aux émissions et Lalla Tasaâdit prenait en main les émissions enfantines dont elle s'occupait, à ce moment là.

Il y a eu, pour les oeuvres littéraires en Kabyle ou théâtrales, toutes les productions de ce genre là, je me souviens, en particulier de Mouhamed Hilmi et de Mhiddine Oussedik et j'en citerais un autre, c'est moi-même qui ai donné des contes, des pièces de théâtre. Je les donnais en français et étaient traduites et diffusées en Kabyle.

Comme chanteur, j'ai bien connu Meziane Nourdine (Cheikh Nourdine), sans oublier Slimane Azem qui passait à la radion également, Farid Ali aussi. Il y avait des chœurs de femmes, comme il y avait aussi des solistes comme Lla Cherifa, Lla Hnifa et Lla Ounissa et Lla Yamina. Egalemeht des Idebbalen.

En dehors d'Alger même, il y avait des studios à Bougie et était dirigé par M. Mahfoudhi et aussi, l'orchestre Sadek Abjaoui.

Le début de cette chaîne Kabyle était comme une espèce de pôle qui attirait tout ce qui pouvait constituer une vie intellectuelle, d'autant qu'il n'y avait pas d'écrit en Kabyle. C'était la tradition orale uniquement et, évidemment, il a fallu faire un effort très important pour collecter, pour créer, pour adapter et pour traduire en français.

Cela a donc donné une grande impulsion à un mouvement de recherches et de réalisations dans les genres qu'on ne connaissait pas du tout dans la vie kabyle d'une façon générale. On s'est mis à créer, à adapter et ça a été quelque chose qui a donné une impulsion à la création et à l'adaptation pour toutes sortes de chose.

Maintenant, si vous voulez bien, je vais passer à mon itinéraire personnel.

Je suis originaire d'Ighil-Ali, chez les At-Abbas. Ma langue maternelle, c'était le kabyle.

Je suis parti, après mon certificat d'études, pour faire des études secondaires et des études supérieures à Alger et j'étais entièrement plongé dans la culture française jusqu'à l'âge d'homme. C'est à ce moment que j'ai découvert le patrimoine kabyle et je me suis jeté à corps perdu là dedans et je me suis mis à recueillir tout ce qui concernait la langue : des poèmes, des contes et tout ce qui concernait la vie kabyle, l'histoire, enfin tout ce que je pouvais en connaître.

Je me souviens qu'au mois d'avril 1946, les émissions en langue française, m'ont demandé si je ne pouvais pas réaliser, pour eux, du folklore (comme ils disaient) kabyle, parce qu'ils en étaient complètement démunis.

Je suis allé en Kabylie, dans la ferme de mes parents, j'ai réuni toutes sortes de personnes qui pouvaient nous donner des documents sonores : des chants, des poèmes, enfin toutes sortes de prestations dans ce domaine. Et c'est ainsi qu'on a fait 22 disques souples.

Les émissions françaises, malheureusement, les ayant utilisés une seule fois, les ont mis au pilon. C'est dommage!

A ce moment là, moi je voulais faire de la radio et je ne savais pas comment faire pour m'introduire à la radio. Je me souviens d'un ami qui m'a dit : moi je connais un certain Lounès qui est régisseur.

Lounès, en question, était gentil et a voulu m'introduire auprès de M. Safir, lequel m'a accueilli très gentiment et m'a dit : oui, vous me dites tout ça, mais moi ce que je veux, c'est d'avoir quelque chose entre les mains pour que je sache ce que vous êtes capable de faire.

Alors, j'ai rédigé un grand texte : une émission qui s'intitulait, je m'en souviens, "les chants" c'était des poèmes kabyles, réalisés par des kabyles sur l'émigration. Finalement, j'ai été recruté le 1^{er} novembre 1947, alors que je travaillais déjà là, sous le titre de régisseur, mais je n'étais pas régisseur, je faisais le travail des droits d'auteurs. Mais à partir de là je faisais, donc, mon travail de reportage, de chroniqueur. Je faisais également un travail de producteur que ce soit pour la chaîne Kabyle ou pour la chaîne Arabe.

J'ai assuré des missions en Kabylie pour recueillir des documents sonores : des poèmes, des contes, enfin toutes sortes de documents qu'on pouvait se procurer.

En 1948, à titre personnel, je me trouvais à Waghzen (aux Aït-Mangellat) d'où ma mère est originaire et là j'ai eu l'occasion de rencontrer le poète Si Yusef Ulefqi et je me souviens avoir recueilli de lui, toute une série de poèmes et quelques années après, en 1951 je les ai enregistrés à la radio. Je ne sais pas s'ils y sont toujours. En principe j'en ai un. Voilà :

Asif aεebbas d amcum Yefreq Yusef d uɣɣul-is
Ur illi d win ileħħun
Ičča-t am uqjun
Ikkes-as ula d arkasen-is Yusef d aqerru n lehmum
D ħafi i yennum
Ittkemmil deg wussan-is Puis ensuite j'ai assuré les grands reportages. Et c'est ainsi en 1953, je suis parti avec M. Rezoug et nous avons parcouru toute la France. Nous avons pu enregistrer les personnes que nous avons rencontrées dans toute la France et quand nous sommes revenus, je me suis retrouvé avec une somme importante de documents. Je me suis attaqué à tout cela et pendant un an j'ai fait diffuser vingt reportages d'une demi-heure, chacun. Ça, a eu un certain retentissement, je me souviens, à tel point que le directeur m'a dit: écoutez, ça serait dommage que ça parte simplement comme ça. Il faudrait qu'on en ait la trace et il m'a demandé si je ne voulais pas m'en occuper pour le faire éditer.

Je m'en suis occupé, je l'ai fait éditer. Et c'est ainsi que l'ouvrage est sorti sous le titre : "Par les chemins d'émigration". Il en est resté pas mal d'exemplaires. En 1957, j'avais fait une autre série de grands reportages sur l'industrie en France. J'étais parti, cette fois-ci, avec le journaliste syrien dont je vous ai parlais.

A la radio nous avions également une revue appelée "Ici Alger" et j'ai souvent été sollicité pour y donner des contes, pour y donner toutes sortes d'éléments (en français, bien sûr) qui ont été diffusés à ce moment là.

Maintenant si vous voulez bien, je vais parler de moi en tant que écrivain en langue française.

J'ai commencé à écrire dans les journaux et dans les revues assez tôt, depuis 1945. Dans "La quatrième république", dans "Alger soir" ; ça c'est dans les journaux. Et puis, alors, dans la revue "Soleil", la revue "Algérie". J'ai été sollicité pour ces revues et j'ai collaboré avec des personnages qui étaient assez importants comme Albert Camus. En 1956, j'ai publié "Le grain dans la meule", c'est un roman. Il a été très bien accueilli en France. De ce roman, Ifticène a tiré un film, sans me consulter. A cette époque là, j'ai été muté à Paris, et là, j'étais à la rédaction française et j'étais chargé de réaliser des interviews d'écrivains. J'en ai enregistré beaucoup : comme le Pr Berques et d'autres.

En 1971, j'ai publié "Poèmes et chants de Kabylie" qui vont ressortir prochainement d'ailleurs, mais cette fois-ci, en langue Kabyle et en langue Française. C'est moi-même qui ai assuré la traduction, parce que je sais que je possède suffisamment le Kabyle pour pouvoir traduire de façon précise. On pourra juger de la précision de la traduction que nul ne pourra contester.

Ensuite, en 1981, j'ai publié "La montagne aux chacals", roman qui a eu sa consécration quand je suis passé à l'émission de Bernard Pivot qui s'appelait "Apostrophes".

Enfin, en 2000, j'ai publié mon dernier roman "La robe kabyle de Baya".

Actuellement, à mon âge, je continue de travailler quotidiennement et je n'ai jamais arrêté l'activité intellectuelle dans tous les domaines.

Avant de conclure mes propos, si me permettez, je voudrais rendre un hommage à Monsieur Saïd Rezoug, c'était quelqu'un qui avait une forte personnalité, autoritaire. Il aimait bien mener son monde et il voulait tout voir de part lui-même. C'était une qualité, bien sûr ! C'était lui qui était à l'oeuvre pour étoffer les émissions de la chaîne Kabyle. C'est avec lui que la chaîne Kabyle a pris une importance particulière. Avec les événements, il a eu certains ennuis et au moment où je suis arrivé en France, muté en 1958, à ma demande pour des raisons purement personnelles d'ailleurs et qui n'avait rien à voir avec la situation politique en Algérie. On s'est retrouvé à la radio, aux Champs Elysées. Il est resté un certain temps, puis il est rentré en Algérie, un peu avant l'indépendance. A ce moment là, il pensait avoir suffisamment d'états de service pour postuler à la direction de la radio. Là, ça n'a pas plu à tout le monde, ça s'est terminé par un drame. Un matin, des gens se sont présentés chez lui. Ils lui ont demandé de les suivre et son fils, qui était un étudiant brillant a voulu accompagner son père et on ne les a jamais plus revus.
